Usage: Chew or dissolve tablets in your mouth. For children, crush tablets and sprinkle onto tongue.

Regimen Jump-Start & Symptom Flare-Ups: You may safely increase dosage up to 3x daily until symptoms improve or as directed by your healthcare professional. Excessive dosage may cause mild digestive discomfort.

Prescription Medications: MoodBrite may be used safely with other OTC or prescription medications. However, as with any changes in your health regimen, we recommend you inform your doctor of your choice to use MoodBrite.

Side Effects: MoodBrite are a homeopathic medication. According to NCCAM, "homeopathic remedies in high dilution, taken under supervision of trained professionals, are generally considered safe and unlikely to cause severe adverse reactions.

Though there is little evidence for it in clinical studies, some individuals express concern about a phenomenon called "homeopathic aggravation." According to homeopathic practitioners, this a rare side effect - occurring when a remedy is particularly well-matched to a patient - in which there is a temporary worsening of symptoms after beginning treatment with a homeopathic medicine. If you believe you are experiencing homeopathic aggravation, we recommend halving your dose size until symptoms subside.

If you believe you are experiencing a rare side effect or allergic reaction to MoodBrite, please discontinue use, consult your healthcare professional immediately, and then contact our customer service department.

Keep with the Program: We encourage you to take MoodBrite twice daily for at least 30 days alongside a healthy diet and exercise regimen. Keep a detailed journal to evaluate your progress.
